THE PRESENTER

Greg O'Keefe has been a teacher for over four decades, with extensive experience in all Year levels from Prep to Year 10. He has a keen interest in literacy, particularly the ways in which learners acquire language. Greg's wide international teaching experience, (including teaching L.E.M. Phonics in non-English speaking contexts), has given him an outstanding depth of knowledge in the area of Literacy Instruction. This programme has also been the basis for work with mature-aged learners and remedial students and has been delivered to learners at all age and ability levels.

THE COURSE

The course will include a balance of theory and practice in a variety of areas including:

- Ten Phonemic Awareness Strategies for parents to use at home;
- Phonogram Sounds - The Single Phonograms;
- Reading Strategies to assist parents when listening to your children read
- Spelling Strategies for assisting children
- Writing Strategies to help children write better
